Recent business disruptions have forced companies in virtually every industry to confront a painful reality: their supply chains are vulnerable and, too often, opaque. As old operational models break under the pressure of global events, forward-looking organizations seek technology and expertise that can optimize their performance and execution.

RPE, a leading supply chain solutions consulting firm, and Traverse Systems, a provider of enterprise supply chain and business partnership management platforms, have partnered to provide these organizations with a more predictable, consistent and profitable supply chain.

With a thorough mix of industry and supply chain technology backgrounds, RPE's consultants and solutions experts come with an insider's understanding of your industry's challenges. They also bring an encyclopedic knowledge of supply chain software providers like Traverse Systems. Traverse has developed these industry-leading solutions:

✔ The Traverse Platform aggregates data from your disparate systems to drive a unified understanding of your entire supply chain, with a pinpoint focus on improving supplier performance, as indicated by the incremental business values below. It encompasses and integrates the entire supply chain ecosystem, including suppliers and supplier relations, procurement, transportation and distribution, and finance and AP.

✔ Rivet is Traverse Systems' business partnership management solution for managing people, projects and assets, providing the key benefit of on-boarding suppliers more accurately with much less effort.

"Once we deployed the Traverse Platform the results were stunning. We took a full eight days out of our supply chain with no effect on overall service levels., which represents a multi-million dollar savings. Additionally, the reduced holding costs are a benefit we will see for many years to come, and frees open-to-buy money for our merchant team."

Randy Vier, Former Vice President of Supply Chain
